

Nestled on the slopes of the renowned hills of Fasano, a villa divided into three separate buildings amazes with its strategic position, elegance, and style. The view is unique and breathtaking: on one side, the endless blue of the Adriatic Sea stretches to the horizon, while on the other, a wild green expanse all around cradles your senses.

The first building, measuring 86 square meters, is an elegant example of modern architecture, welcoming visitors with an atmosphere of luxury and sophistication. The second building, a charming 52-square-meter lamia, adds a touch of tradition and authenticity. And if you desire even more exclusivity, a picturesque trullo greets you with its unique charm.

The surrounding property extends down the hillside for 8,700 square meters, featuring numerous dry-stone walls and terraces for strolling and enjoying the splendid views that stretch for dozens of kilometers in every direction.
